For some, dry skin is a year-round problem. For others, the toll of winter's environmental stresses really shows come spring. Remedy parched skin with these tips.

1. Run a humidifier in your bedroom, particularly during colder months when central heating dries out the air.
2. Choose a gentle skin cleanser that doesn't irritate or leave your skin tight and dry after use.
3. Exfoliate regularly to get rid of dry, dead cells that make the skin look dull. This allows moisturizer to easily penetrate.
4. A good moisturizer contains emollients, which are lubricating ingredients. Look for plant oils, mineral oils, shea butter and cocoa butter, to name a few.
5. Choose the lightest formula possible as heavy creams hold dead skin cells in place, restricting the natural exfoliation process. After cleansing, apply moisturizer to damp skin.
6. Drink lots of water to stay hydrated.
7. Protect your skin during the day with a moisturizer with an SPF.
